Microsoft has made available the DVD ISO's of three games, Pitfall II Gold, Sniper Wolf and Sim City 2000. These were taken from a Windows 2000 machine. Can they be installed in XP Pro?. Windows XP Pro does not have a DVD emulation driver on the installation disc. I want to create a computer program that can take a picture of a certain person's face and then use a program to search online for this person's picture and display it. I need to do this in C++ using the Microsoft SDK I need a website where a user can upload/download a picture of a logo/picture. When the user uploads the picture of the logo they can submit the picture to a website by filling in the form. The website needs to automatically resize the picture to fit into its own container. The website needs to store the picture in its own format. It needs to... I need a script where I can upload a picture of a person. Then with the use of an API it will return the Lat/long, the gender, the race, age and name from the picture. And it needs to work across different cameras. The one I will be using is the WIFI camera at one of my clients, I can add the script to that camera if you dont have an application We have many pictures with footprints and text on it. And we need to make those all in one batch. With adding the picture in a template and changing the text size and image name and type. I need to create a 3D game with similar features as Crossword Quest. However, it needs to be able to save your current game to the cloud. For example, save your win-percentage, and various other game stats and achievements. It also needs to be able to display other peoples' games and have an integrated leaderboard. I need a text art work for a client. The amount of text will be small - about 150 words. The client would like to attach a sample photo, but I will have to redraw the text and do a bit of touching up on the layout. I have developed a web application, it uploads image and create a thumnail of that image and return the url of that thumbnial. Now, I need a picture at the top of the web page (not the header 2edc1e01e8
